New York. Feb. 15.—The cotton market showed renewed steadiness early today on a continued small volume of business. The cables were a few points better than due, and first prices here were 3 points lower on March, but generally 2 to 10 points higher. Further scattering March liquidation was well enough absorbed to send the price up 8 or 9 points from the opening figures, and there was some trade buying of later months, with May selling at 29.57c and July at 29.66c shortly after the call, or some 7 to 10 points above last night's closing figures.

There was a spurt of covering later which sent May up to 29.70c and July to 29.17c, or 18 to 22 points net higher. Reports that hostilities might be resumed between Russia and Germany were probably a factor on the advance, but buying soon tapered off and reactions of 6 or 7 points followed on private reports of rain at Houston.

No fresh feature developed during the early afternoon and the market was quiet but steady, with active months ruling about 10 to 17 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

New Orleans, Feb. 13.—Continued drouthy conditions in Texas made for higher prices in cotton here today, the market rising 12 to 15 points in the first half-hour. Reports of large government orders for cotton goods being placed with mills also helped the market.

Private predictions of rain in Texas caused moderate selling, under which prices sagged to a level unchanged to 5 points up net, but toward noon the market. was back at its highest again.

A quiet but steady feeling prevailed in the afternoon. At 1 o'clock prices were 6 to 8 points over yesterday's close. NEW ORLEANS COTTON FUTURES

Revised figures for bituminous production in the week ended Jan. 19 show the lowest percentage of output recorded at any time since the geological survey began compiling bituminous survey began complling bituminous statistics. The percentage of capacity operated was only 55.8; and for the 44.2 per cent, of capacity that was idle, car shortage can be blamed for 35.5. The decrease in percentage of capacity worked is a steady stepdown from 75.4 the week ended Dec. 29 to 73.1 the week ended Jan 15 and 65.4 the week ended Jan 15. ended Jan. 12.

first was affected by the storm in the week of Jan. 19, Ohio dropping from 65.7 to 40.3 per cent, of capacity. The various fields in Pennsylvania were hit various fields in Pennsylvania were hit equally hard. Production fell off, too, in the fields of southwestern Virginia, Kentucky and the southern Apalachians. Output from the high volatile district of southern West Virginia tumbled to 28.9 per cent. Working conditions in Alabama, however, returned almost to normal. In regard to beehive coke the geological survey says:

"The slump in the production of beehive coke noted during the preceding week continued through the week of Jan. 26. Fifty-seven of the principal ing week continued through the week of Jan. 26. Fifty-seven of the principal operators in the beehive coke districts of Connellsville, Greensburg and Latrobe reported a production of 202,650 net tons of coke, or 48.7 per cent. of their capacity as rated by the railroads. The normal performance of the same operators during recent months has been about 65 per cent. of the rated capacity. The extraordinary depression was attributed to shortage of coke cars. The losses ascribed to that cause alone amounted to 36.8 per cent. of the rated capacity. Losses attributed to shortage of yard labor decreased slightly during the week amounting to 8,6 per cent. For the unusual shortage of coke cars the heavy blanket of snow is largely responsible."

Speaking of Economy

Saxon Roadster owners continually report operating charges of but 3c per mile.

Do you realize you can gain all the advantages of motor-car ownership for but little more expense than your present cost of car fare? And do you realize that motor-car ownership today is productive economy?

To make your efforts count most heavily, you must use every possible dime-saving instrument. Each one of us must produce more by working harder and making more effective use of our time.

And because Saxon Roadster will give you the greatest number of satisfactory miles of travel for the least money, it is the logical car for this

One salesman writes us he now covers his territory of 42 towns in just one-fourth the time formerly required by railroad, and at an expense of but 21/2e per mile. He can now devote the balance of his time to developing new fields. He has multiplied his efficiency by four. He has made Saxon Roadster pay him a time dividend of 400 per cent., and it can do the same for you.

Hundreds of Saxon Roadster owners have voluntarily written us expressing their satisfaction with the economical way in which this car has performed. Saxon Roadster complete, with starting and lighting system, three-speed transmission and demountable rims, is $395 f.o.b. Detroit.
